Yesterday morning before daybreak she was awakened by bearing her husband rising from the bed and opening a table drawer in the room. She next recognized the opening of a razor case, and half defining his terrible purpose, though nothing before had eroused her afarm, she aprang from the bed towards him in the dark. She heard him make one stroke, and in an agosy of terror attempted to seize his weapon, receiving a very severe gash across her hand. The burglars are about, and there should be enjoined upon our citizens the greatest watchfulness, and an increased rigitance on our officers and the testives. We learn that on Saturday night last, two hardware slores were entered on Lake street, Nos. 130 and 183, occupied respectively by Mesers. Edson & White, and M. N. Lord & Co., in both instances by breaking into a rear window. From each a quantity of centery was stolen.

A most singular circumstance under the same head took place on Sanday night. About three o'dlock as at officer quian, while on his beat near the cerser of State and Madison street met a man bearing two carpet bags. The policyman says that his auspleions were not excited even to watch the stranger closely until it was impossible not to see the alarm and shyness of the man at meeting the officer. Quian then accosted him, when he immediately took to his heels at a rate that defied competition. his heels at a rate that defied competition. The bags were picked up and taken to the Armory. Upon being opened, they were found to contain a large and splendid assortment of silk and satin ribbons, places of silk of every description, and other articles evidently a por-tion of the stock of some millinery store. In the bags were, also, found a new brace, chisel and a case knife, implements which plainly show the profession of the stranger.

Yesterday morning the Misses Norris, who keep a Millinery and Bondet Store in the Methodist Church Block, on South Clark street, discovered their memics, had been analysis and covered their premises had been entered and thouroughly ransacked and their best goods, in rithous and triumings, carried off. A little ex-amination showed that the contents of the carpet bags consisted of the entire booty taken of the value of several hundred doilars.

The scamp was one who evidently knew his business, and went deliberately to work. None except the best and most saleable goods were taken. The Great Building-Raising Contract. The entire front of first class buildings on the north side of Lake street, between Lazalle and Clark streets is now rising to grade at the rate of about twelve inches per day. It will be at its full height by to morrow night, when it will onstitute a speciacle not many of our citizens ing nearly one acre, and weighing over twenty-five thousand tons resting on six thousand acrews, upon which it has made an upward ourney of four feet and ten inches. Probables as parallel enterprise cannot be found the work he contractors are, we learn, preparing to accommodate the public and give them an oppor tunity of looking and passing in among the forest of iron screws. Then we propose to say something more in detail regarding this notable and wonderful enterprise, to which we have often made reference.

THE MEXICAN IMBROGLIO.

Perhaps the best evidence that Commodors Jarvis, in capturing the Mexico-Spanish steamers, Marquez and Miramon, acted without positive instructions from Washington, is found in the fact that the pro-slavery men and fillibusters at the seat of government seem done as the Republicans themselves. As ye we have no indications of what they propos to do in the premises. The Constitution blathers away in unmeaning platitudes; but its out-givings amount to nothing, because they may be repudiated at any time. The Cabinet, says the telegraph, has been called together; and at the meeting, Mexican affairs and our relations thereto were earnestly discussed; but the public are not informed of the determination arrived at. Various and sundry resolutions have been introduced into the Senate and House, some by Republicans and others by the Democracy, but they have not been heard from since. We are yet all in the dark. Whether the Administration means war with Mexico alone for another slice of territory, or with Mexico alone for another slice of the state of the sta taking the wrong way, Mr. Buchanan and his as long as the country is governed by nen who do not so much desire the vindication of her honor and her exaltation among the nahonest men, or the external affairs of all other language like this and who cherish in their hearts the purposes of which these words are the expression, are those from whom the slaves ought to pray to be delivered. Without that philosophical babit of thought which teaches that freedom for all American bondmen canmatter how well planued or skillfully executed, inless they can see the fruit of their daily toil rathered in at night; without plans which apply to events beyond to-morrow; with only antempered zeal which is the outgrowth of oute, rather than conviction, they serve no other purpose than to embarrass the efforts of abler and honester men, and furnish the best ammunition to the very enemy that they would overthrow.

Springs, Miss., and Jackson, Tenn. We spoke in our first letter of our hospitablesand most cordial reception here on our way down, and we were none the less pleased with the very agreeable calls we have made on our excellent friends this afternoon. The bright eyes and witching smiles, with the more attractive qualities of mind and heart, of the ladies of Jackson are playing the mischief wish the widowers and the bachelors of our party, and we will not answer for their dreams for many weeks to comthe bachelors of our party, and we will not answer for their dreams for many weeks to come.
We have simply to hint to the ladies of Milwaukee, Detroit and Chicsgo that a little extra attention is necessary or these gentlemen will show their devotion to "Southern institutions" n a way that will count them lost to our soci the ladies and gentlemen of Jackson. An article upon the condition and the im-portance of this new line of Railway, both to the North and South, will close our remarks apon this subject.

But, say some of our readers, you have told us nothing about slavery! In all your observations, didn't you see the "nigger," of which we have heard so much? Yes, we saw the "plenty" the further South wa went. In more than one instance we thought he had the decided advantage, in character and in dignity, of his Saxon master. For example, we saw a slave-trader at Holly Springs, who, with some half dozen slaves, had come down with us on the cars, drunk as a lord at midnight; and as he started from the hotel, the poor, stargering wretch was held up by a slave on each aids, while the younger members of the party followed in the rear. But surely this is not the occasion for extended remarks upon this subject. In Southern Mississippi, and in Louisians, we observed upon one, sometimes, perchance, a dozen branches, of the in Louisians, we conserved upon one, some-times, perchance, a dozen branches, of the venerable oaks by which we were passing, a toft of beautiful green leaves. The oak itself had not put on its spring robes, and what was this? The Mistletce—a parasite that lives upon the sap of the tree upon which it fastens. upon the say of the tree upon which it macens. Its small, yellowish green flowers, and its highly green head, and small white betries in winter, are a beautiful orsament, and we may suppose the oak delighted with its embrace; but one branch after another is quietly grasped by the

Excitement in New Orleans—Poison—log by Slaves.

The New Orleans Drite of the 23d gives the details of a poisoning affair in that city, "by which," says the Drite, "the city was never more thoroughly shocked." A party consisting of a dezen persons were assembled at a convivial entertainment at the house of a Mr. Lemley in the French District. Among the dishes brought upon the table was one of "Charlotte Russe," of which they all partook—some of the ladies taking a small quantity home to their children. All who tasted of this the lather brought upon the sailty is sea in set of "Carbette Ranes" of which they all parties of the control of the lather than the sailty of the control of the lather than the sailty of the control of the lather than the

The joilor has relaxed the rules, which are vigorously enforced against the other prisoners, whether rich or poor, which are, that they shall receive no visitors except members of their immediate family and their physician. Mr. Hyati's room is quite large, with a high ceiling, a very large window grated with from bars, from which all view of the city is excluded by heavy wooden blinds, which can neither be opened nor removed. When Mr. Li, was placed in the room, is was bare of all furniture. Government has supplied him with nothing. The room now contains a bed, three chairs, a walout table, a few tin and earthern dishes, a washstand and fixtures. The brief floor is covered with cement, except in large spots where this is broken away. The walls and celling are whitewashed, and the room is acrupulously clean. All the furniture of the prisoner, as will be all the conditions made to his accommodation.

Mr. Hyatt appears not at all downeast by his imprisonment. He declares his determination to maintain the position he had assumed, because he believes it would be wrong to accede to the demands of the Senate. Not that he desires to conceal anything, for he has asserted that whenever the Senate will recede from the compulsory process, he will volunteer to an swer any questions which they may ask. His position is this: He deside the right of the Senate to coerce witnesses, either as to attendance or as to testimony. He has nothing which he desires to conceal, but he declare is the intention to test the power of the Senate. He can suffer as long as they can inflict punishment. It has resolved itself into a question of

The sweet gratification of knowing how much one may do for one's country in this manner is considerably heightened by the reflection, that the very best policy to prevent a recurrence of "Indian ravages," has been adopted, viz. that of destroying the women and children, as well as the "bucks." The reputations of the Pharaohs and Herods of former ages have been fairly eclipsed, demonstrating the singular fact, that a greater refinement in civilization is apt to be accompanied by a greater refinement in cruelty and infamy.

The express measenger says that on the Island, distant but a few hundred yards from Eureka, 40 were killed, of whom three fourths were women and children; that on the beach, where there were 40 or 50 other Indians, every one was killed; and that, at all the points of simultaneons attack up that fine Sunday morning, not less than two hundred were butchered! All teports unite in the intimation that the farmers and graziers generally of the Fel river country were the siders and abettors of the handful of desperadoes, from their number, who made such clean work with the aswages, whose chief ain was that when the starving theves were hard preased, they opened their cabin down to them.

Terrible Affair at Sea.

In the Evening Express of Saturday, our Boston correspondent telegraphed the news of a horrible multiny on board the ship Norway, Capt. Major, of this port, on her recent passage from Maose to Havans. The Boston papers which have at recome to band supply a few additional particulars. The Norway sailed from Macso, November 26th, with about one thousand Goolies, on board, and when five days out, at about six o'elock in the evaning, the captain below at the time, a multiny broke out among the Goolies, who set fire to the ship in two places, and endeavored to force the histones. Mr. Stimpson, of Boston, one of the mates, had charge of the deck, and the watch, with the exception of the man at the wheel, was aloft taking in sail. Mr. Stimpson rushed to the hatsh and opmmenced the struggle. The erew from aloft, and those below, tried to seize the boats and leave the stips, when the surgeno, an English gentleman, drew his pistot and threatened to shoot the first man who dared to make that attempt. The erew them railied and went to the assistance of the officers, and a fight ensued, which continued from six in the twening until after daylight next morning. This of the Coolies were killed and more than naisty were avounded before the mutagey sea quelled. The Captain then gave the Coolies one hour to deliver up in the arms in their possession; if they did not, he threatened to cut away the masts, set fire to the ship, take away the boats and provisions, and leave them to their inter. The mutagers soon came to terms.—N.

A Democratic Idea of Heaven,
A friend sendans the following racy sketch:
A friend of mine related to me a little circumstance that occurred at the Columbia Theatre, last Saturday night, which, as Capt, Cuttle would say, in worth "making a sole of sand sitching a pin there." The worthy member from Holmes, one of the "unterrified, not content with the limited areas of the House, for the diswould say, is worth "making a note of sanding a pin there." The worthy member Helmes, one of the "unterrised, not cowith the limited areas of the House, for the play of sloquence, attended the Theater, at tween the plays, while silence raigned suparose, and, addressing the orchestra, "Sposen you give us Karkee Doodle," "this hint" they gave him Kaukee Doodle, again the member from Holmes arose and "Hein" as how I called for Kankee Booth of the same than the strength of the same than the "Bein' as how i easied for Kankes Dootle, I suppose it it will be expected of me to make a few remarks. It reminds me when me and Ginral Jackson was in Baltimore in '22; there was a band escorted us to the boat, and they asked the Ginral saye 'Kankee Doodle, and they play!' and the Ginral saye 'Kankee Doodle, and they play!' and the Ginral saye 'Kankee Doodle, and they play!' and the Ginral saye 'Kankee Doodle, who the old Ginral's eyes sparkled. elast (with emotion—uptgraed eyes, and clasped hands, alus!' poorman! he's gone to heaven, there to sing Kankee Doodle with all the Heavenly Fathers, and may be sing it to all steralty.'' The work in question in believed to be intendiary in its character, and hostile to sinvery, and on the trial of the agents, Mr. Bird defended them in the capacity of lawyer. Hence the indignation of the people."

We clip the above from the last number of the Columbus, (Gz.) Sun. There are two or three curious points about it which we will hrisdly state:

1. Mayor Bird was requested to resign because he had defended, as a lawyer, two men charged with the high crime and misdemeanor of bookselling.

How Not to Do It. The Urremalocution Office has been hard at work again, if we may redit the statements it file recent files of newspapers received from England. One would have thought that the metaneholy developments of official incapacity brought about by the Crimean war, and the startling revelations of Mr. Arthur Clentam, in Little Ibert, would have so strong drawn public attention to the abominable indolunce and indifference of the tive heads, and have found out som all where they might dwell in broo-ess. But no! the great institution aristing vices:

In "attent similars and bemostheness of the House of Commons denounce it. Vamily does the Thunderer foliminate his lightnings and shoke the scane. The Circuminection of face flourishes ever. Vice is Bureau de la Oiscontection.

Here is the evidence, or rather a portion of it. We should fill columns were we to extract all. It was desirable to send some batteries of Arinstrong guas to China, by the overland routes, as soon as possible. Arrangements were accordingly made whereby the fine steamer Himslays, which did such good service during the Crimean war, was rendered disposable for the conveyance of a detachment of artillery to Alexandria, where other arrangements were made for their conveyance by railways to Cairo for the conveyance of a detachment of artillery to Alexandria, where other arrangements were made for their conveyance by railers to Cairo, and thence to Sues, it having been considered useless to wait until M. de Leseps grand canal should be completed. The Circumicoutors, however, being fearful of the consequences to the guans of the tropps of too great rapidity of transit, employed an old steam barge of ber British Majesty's Indian many, called the Berentee, to go round to Suez to take the artillery on board. The Berentee was built in Glasgow in 1835, and is of 664 tons burden and 250 horse power, and has been known to go eight knots an hour under invorable circumstances. The tonage of the Hinniary is about thit teen times as great as that of the Berentee, consequently the latter is wholly incompetent to replace the former on the Red Sea part of the transit, But a 'importe. She can make thirteen journeys to the Hinniary's She can make thirteen journeys to the Hinniary's one, and so compensate for the former on the new comparison ourneys to the Humalaya's one, and so compensate for her deficiency in size, and the Celestials can wait for their promised threshing. The troops left England in the beginning of January, and arrived at Alexandria about the Soth of the same month. On the 16th of February one hastery embarked at Sues in the Berenice, turing had three week's leisure to devote to the study of hierogyphics and the pyramids of Cairo. The remainder of the troops will stay in Egypt until the Berenice shall return and take off a second detachment, and so on; giving time to those left to the last to become as accomplished Ægyptol. 105 feet; as Champoliton and Lepsins. As a set-off to this style of marching against and enemy, we may notice, incidentally, that the Emperor Napoleon has shipped the entire force which he has destined for service in China, and that they will arrive, D. V., at the place of rendezvous in April, with no more drawback to their health and efficiency than is usually engendered by a voyage of four months' duration. But "comparisons are odorious," as Dogberry says; so we will not indulge them. Let us see what else is said touching the Berenice. [On being impected it was found that she had no coppers for cooking the men's food, no tube, no plates, nedishes, no buckets, no bedding for the sick. The artillery officers we obliged to fit her out with these things as well as they could, for the officer in command of the ship had not received any inbound, tien. Sutter's fifty-league claim along the American and Feather Rivers is of classical renown. Some months since the United States Supreme Court confirmed Sutter's title to eleven of the fifty leagues only, and ordered the Surveyor-tieneral to survey and locate the command of the ship had not received any in structions to provide them, and he declined in carring the risk of furnishing them on his ow responsibility. It was no business of his to se to the comfort of the troops; all he had to do to the common way them from Sues to Hombay as fast as the Berenice would allow him to do it. And it is fair to presume that he is doing his best at this moment, while the remaining demed scruliny of Mr. Hankey. The unworing suspicious of the honorable member, were confirmed. Among other interesting facts he found that the accounts of the Heceiver General's department had been audited up to March 31, 1837, only, when they should have been audited posetually at the expiration of every quester. The Poot Office accounts had been audited only up to the aame date. Those of the Bank of Enhand (which acts as receiver of the revenue, and is paid about £400,000 ($2,000,000) a reartor its services to government, were audited only up to November of the same year. The secounts of the Science and Art Lepartment have been brought down only to March, 1856. Some of the colonial accounts are also in arrest; the cash account of the Courier Establishment in Western Australia not having been sitted for the last three years. The ever Natal accounts are in arrests as for beach as 1856. The Bangkok

The Southern Confuderacy, published at Atlanta, Georga, and a disumon abeet, is utterly opposed to a change of the National Convention from Charleston to Baltimore. PRESONAL

EDWARD BAYES OF MISSOURI.—Mr. Bates is about sixty-four years of age, is about five feet seven inches in height, and is rather stoutly built, and stoops a good deal, and rather particularly so when addressing a court or jury, but when particularly interested or excited in the trial of a suit, or in addressing a popular assembly, often becomes as straight as a reed. His hair fifteen years ago was a pure jet black, and was so stiff and unmanageable that he always wore it, and yet does, cropped close to the bead. Within the past ten years he has grown very gray. His forehead is square and not high, and has large breadth. His eyes are black and smell, and deeply set, with shaggy brows. His nose is broad and nostrils wide, and perhaps a believer in Lavater would say that his nose was his best feature. His mouth is well formed and ligs rather thin for beauty. His chin is prominent, cheek bone hardly observable, although its face is not full. The tones of his voice ar very mild and pleasant.

Drivex Out.—A gentleman by the name of Goodell, who is a native of Highland county, Ohio, passed through here on Wednesday, having been compelled to leave St. Charles county, Missouri, where he has been employed in teaching school, for expressing opinions dangerous to the institution of slavery. The offeusive language consisted in a remark to a class in history that the founders of our government did not contemplate slavery as a permanent institution. Upon this remark being reported by the scholars, doubtless with some exaggerations, a meeting was called, Mr. Goodell was notified to leave within 48 hours, and a resolution adopted that in future no teacher should be employed in that school district who is a native of a Free State. No violence was offered to Mr.
Goodell, but a cognitive escorted him to the
